

Panel No.	12
Panel Paper Title	Climate Change in Asia
Panel Convenor	Prof Yuichiro Tsuji Yuichiro Tsuji took his LLM at Kyoto Univ, LLM and JSD at UC Berkeley School of Law. He is a Associate Professor at the University of Tsukuba. Director of Laboratory for Social Analysis of Regions And Climate Alteration of University of Tsukuba. He is in charge of teaching constitutional law, administrative law, environmental law, comparative law and law and development in undergraduate, master degree and Ph.D courses in law major. https://ssrn.com/author=979824
Name of Panellists	Prof Ren-Chuan Kevin Kao Ren-Chuan Kevin Kao is currently the Assistant Professor and also the the Director of Public Law Center at the College of Law, National Taipei University. Research Field: Constitutional Law, Administrative Law, Environmental Law, Energy Law, Climate Change Law, Science and Regulatory Policy. Education: J.S.D., University of California, Berkeley Law School, 2011.5 LL.M., University of California, Berkeley Law School, 2008.5 Ph.D. Courses completed. National Taipei University, College of Law, 2008.5 Master of Public Law, National Cheng-Chi University, College of Law, 2000.7 B.A., National Taiwan University, College of Liberal Arts, Department of Chinese Literature; B.A., College of Law, Department of Law, 1996 3.Other Professional Activities Member of Reviewing and Consulting Committee of Coastal Management, Construction and Planning Agency, Ministry of the Interior, 2018.1~present Member of Reviewing and Consulting Committee, Department of Legal Affairs, Taipei City Government, 2015.10~2017.12 Director of Constitutional Law and Administrative Law Committee, Taiwan Law Society, 2015.3~present Member of Director Board, Taiwan Energy Law Research Association, 2015.1~present Assistant Professor, College of Law, National Chung-Cheng University, 2011.8~2012.7 Deputy Editor of the Taiwan Law Review, 2003.3~2007.4 Prof Cherng, Ming-Shiou Cherng, Ming-Shiou is a full-time professor of School of Law, Soochow University in Taiwan. He obtained Bachelor of Laws from Department of Law, National Chung Hsing University (currently National Taipei University) in Taiwan, and LL. M. and Dr. jur. from Münster University in Germany. He has expertise in Constitutional Law, Administrative Law, Economic Administrative Law, Nuclear Law, Civil Service Law and so forth. He was on secondment to R.O.C. Civil Service Protection and Training Committee, and continuously serves as member of official committees now. He has personally published hundreds of academic articles and four books. From 2014 to 2017 he cooperated with Japanese scholars for the research project “Characteristics and measures of hollowing out of land ownership in marginal settlements-From the viewpoint of monsoon Asia,” and co-edited and published a book on the same topic in 2018. Ms Hsin-Ju Li Hsin-Ju Li is a Ph.D. Student of School of Law, Soochow University in Taiwan. She obtained Bachelor of Arts from Department of English, Tamkang University in Taiwan, and LL. M. from School of Law, Soochow University. She worked in Academia Sinica as the assistant of the Chief-editor of academic journal 《Statistica Sinica》, and in Taiwan Institute of Economic Research as an Assistant Researcher on renewable energy laws. Her research interests are in Administrative Law, Indigenous Law and Environmental Law.

Prof Donatien Huei-Tung Chang

Donatien current position is Assistant Professor at the School of Law in National Taipei University. He obtained his doctor degree of Law in University Panthéon-Sorbonne Paris 1.

He was the director of Public Law Research Center(2017-08 ~ 2018-07), the supervisor in Taiwan Cultural Law Society since 2016, the President of the Association of Taiwanese-French Comparative Law (2016), the Deputy Editor-in-Chief of Angle Medical Law Report since 2016, the Member of the Law Committee in Taipei Municipal Government Legal Affairs Bureau since september 2015.

His research interests are: Public-private partnership, Energy and Environmental Law, Medical and Health Administrative Law and Cultural law.